

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy is incorporated into and is subject to the Terms and Conditions of Use of Real Imaging's website (the "Website"). Your use of the Website is subject at all time to this Privacy Policy and the Terms and Conditions of Use. By using the Website, you expressly consent to the information handling practices described in this notice.

1. Privacy Policy Updates

Real Imaging may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. If so, Real Imaging will post its updated Privacy Policy on the Website. If any modification is unacceptable to you, you shall cease using the Website. If you do not cease using the Website, you will be deemed to have accepted the changes.

2. General Information

Real Imaging respects the privacy of users of its Website, and will not disclose, give, sell, or transfer any personal information about visitors, unless required to do so by law. Notwithstanding the forgoing, Real Imaging may transfer personal information to a successor entity upon a merger, consolidation or other corporate reorganization in which Real Imaging participates or to a purchaser of all or substantially all of Real Imaging's assets to which the Website relates.

Real Imaging may track the total number of visitors in the Website, the number of visitors to each page of the Website, and certain details, if they are available, as IP addresses, browser type, Internet service provider, domain name and country of origin of the visitor's computer. We may analyze this data and statistics in the aggregate, but such information will be maintained, used and disclosed in aggregate form only and it will not contain personally identifiable information. We may use such aggregate information to analyze trends, administer the Website, track users' movement, and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use.

3. Cookies

Cookies are small text files websites can use to recognize repeat users and facilitate users' ongoing access to and preferences within a website. They pose no threat to users' files, nor do they contain personal information.

Realimaging may employ cookie technology to allow users to move more quickly through our Website. Realimaging does not and will not use cookies or any other technology to track or report on user activity when users are not on the Website, nor will we pass user data to other websites. However, users who do not want information collected through the use of cookies can access the option, available in most browsers, to accept or reject the cookie feature.

4. Contact Information and E-mail Messages

When user fills a Contact Information form or send an e-mail to Real Imaging Website, the contact information, including e-mail address and questions or other information of the sender are stored electronically to allow time for a response to be researched, written, and sent. Replies to questions sent to us will be sent only to the address or e-mail address of the sender and not to a third person or address to ensure confidentiality and that information is not sent inappropriately. Unless otherwise required by law, Real Imaging will not identify anyone who sends questions or comments to its Website.

If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Policy please contact us via e-mail at info@realimaging.com.
